

More improvements to route along river

In the slightly longer term, we'd like there to be some further improvements, to make the route into town better.

Potential shortcut in St Ebbes. The spiral ramp on the St Ebbes side of the Old Gasworks Bridge could be replaced by a direct ramp, that would be shorter, and which most cyclists could manage. The best route appears to be straight on at the end of the bridge, across the spiral, then veering to the right back to the river path (the photo was taken looking over the wall at the end of the bridge).

Get Environment Agency to allow cycling at lock. If the lock hut could be moved to the far (southern) end of the lock, and the path fenced from the river, it might resolve the health & safety issues that currently prevent cycling through the lock area.
